Strong arguments for your success

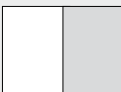

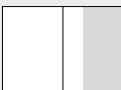

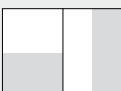

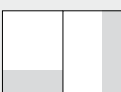

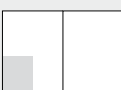

The one of a kind reading situation: Our passengers have time to reflect on the magazine without disruptions in the myAustrian lounges and during the flight. Reading 'their' in-flight magazine on board 'their' airline, a special bond develops. And you also can read the e-paper on austrian.com. Everytime and wherever you want.

Skylines – now on the CAT too

3,800 passengers daily and approximately 1.4 million travellers annually use the CAT for their journey to or from Vienna International Airport. And now your presence in skylines can also get through to these travellers. Day after day the additional circulation in the CAT trains assures you even more contacts!

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF BUSINESS

PLACING AN ORDER

1. The order is subject to our General Terms and Conditions of Business, the respective applicable advertisement price lists and our order confirmation. In the event of any data being supplied in digital form, the publisher's guidelines in regard to the supply of data digitally also apply. These terms and conditions of business also apply to any future business relations, even if they have not been agreed expressly again.
2. Orders for advertisements are to be executed within a year of the order being placed. In case of doubt, they will be for the next edition.
3. In so far as there are no time limits due to their being associated with a particular campaign, the discounts designated in the advertisement price list will only be granted for the advertisements appearing within a given calendar year.
4. Solely the customer will be responsible for the content, form and legitimacy of the advertisement, in particular including the clearance of copyrights, trademark rights and personal rights. The publisher is not obliged to check advertisements in regard to their content, form or legitimacy. In the event of any claims being filed by a third party, the customer will indemnify the publisher and hold it harmless. The publisher is entitled, but not obliged, to adapt prize draws, coupons and tip-on-cards or complimentary items to the extent legally necessary.
5. No warranty is provided that the advertisements will be included in particular editions.
6. It is incumbent upon the customer to inform itself on the respective applicable advertisement tariff prior to the advertisement being published.
7. If there are any amendments to the prices of the advertisements, the new terms and conditions will also immediately take effect in regard to orders in progress, unless any provision to the contrary has explicitly been agreed.
8. If the advertisement is printed illegibly, incorrectly or incompletely, the customer will have claims to reduced payment or a substitute advertisement if the meaning of the advertisement has been critically changed by the publisher's error or if the appeal of the advertisement is substantially at risk. Any further liability on the part of the publisher is excluded. In case of doubt, the publisher is subject to the recommendations of the expert committee for printing complaints (FOGRA Forschungsgesellschaft Druck e.V., Munich, Germany).
9. In the event of disruptions to business or interference due to Acts of God, the publisher will be entitled to full payment for the advertisements published if the orders have been fulfilled to the extent of 80% of the assured print run. A lesser degree of service is to be paid for based on the cost per one thousand units, in accordance with the calculated print run.
10. Advertisements that are not recognisable as an advertisement due to their editorial design will be marked by the publisher as such.
11. The News publishing group reserves the right to refuse to publish the advertisements without giving reasons. In such a case, any claims against the News publishing group will be excluded.
- 11a. In particular, the News publishing group reserves the right not to pursue advertising efforts that have been objected to by the Austrian Advertising Council. The latter also includes putting an immediate stop to any advertising campaign that is already ongoing. The News publishing group may, for this reason, refuse to accept advertising orders and rescind any orders that have been accepted in a legally binding manner.
12. Any supplementary agreements to our General Terms and Conditions of Business are only binding if they have been confirmed in writing by the management of the News GmbH publishing group. Any acknowledgements on the part of the customer and references to its terms and conditions of business and delivery are legally invalid, even if they have not explicitly been objected to by the publisher in the individual case. Acceptance of the customer's general terms and conditions of business and delivery by the publisher by way of fulfilment actions is excluded.

PRINTING COPY

1. It is incumbent upon the advertiser to provide the printing copy in good time. A binding colour proof must be supplied along with each page. If the printing copy is supplied later, the publisher will be entitled to use a subject of the customer's available to it. The publisher does, however, reserve the right to display the advertisement in the next edition.
2. Proofs will only be produced if the customer expressly so wishes. The costs are to be borne by the customer. If the latter is not to be returned by the due date, the copy will be deemed to have been approved for printing.
3. The obligation to save printing copy ends three months after the advertisement has appeared, unless any other agreement to the contrary has explicitly been entered into.
4. The costs of significant changes to designs originally agreed are to be borne by the customer.
5. The sketch, text, graphics and photography for an advertisement will be prepared by us upon request: The costs will be the customer's responsibility. Should the customer wish to continue to use the latter in other media, the rights in that respect must be obtained from the publisher.
6. Production and creativity costs do not form a component of the price of displaying the advertisement, and will therefore be billed separately.
7. The customer is obliged to provide impeccable print copy in accordance with the guidelines. If any defects in the print copy are not immediately recognisable, but only become noticeable during the printing process, the customer will have no claim to a substitute advertisement. The publisher is not obliged to check the print copy for its completeness and accuracy.
8. Complaints are to be notified to the publisher in writing within eight days of receiving the invoice.
9. The publisher is not liable for any transmission errors.
10. The contractor is not obliged to check whether the customer is entitled to duplicate print copy of any kind, process it in accordance with the order, or amend it, or make use of such copy in any other way, but is entitled to assume that the customer is in possession of any rights vis-à-vis third parties that are necessary for the order to be executed. The customer explicitly assures that it holds such rights. In the event of any claims filed by a third party, the customer will indemnify the publisher and hold it harmless in full.
11. The respective applicable Terms and Conditions of Production will apply to the order placed.
12. Due to mechanical production, there may be technical deviations in producing the special form of advertising. Discrepancies of up to 3% of the total circulation do not entitle the customer to file a complaint, and do not release the customer from the obligation to bear the production costs.

PLACEMENT

1. Requests concerning the question where advertisements are placed will only be binding if the customer pays a placing surcharge, otherwise the publisher will endeavour to fulfil such a wish on a non-binding basis.
2. A clause stipulating that no competitor advertisement may be placed in the direct vicinity of the customer's advertisement may only be stipulated as from a display size starting at one full page, for two pages that are opposite one another.

SUPPLEMENTS/GLUED-IN INSERTS/BOUND-IN INSERTS

1. The content of any supplements, glued-in inserts and bound-in inserts may only refer to the advertiser's own field of business, and may not include any third-party advertising.
2. Prior to the order being executed, a sample and the content of the PDF file are to be presented to the publisher four weeks prior to the publication date.
3. The fulfilment of the technical prerequisites is a binding requirement for being able to execute the order. Additional costs may be incurred if the technical prerequisites are not or not fully fulfilled. The additional costs are not included in the prices and must, therefore, be charged in addition.

CANCELLATION

1. A cancellation fee of 15% of the value of the advertisement will be invoiced when orders are cancelled.
2. An order may only be cancelled prior to the advertising deadline.
3. Ad specials may be cancelled by no later than six weeks prior to the publication date, or, in the case of special edition paper being used, only by the day on which the paper is ordered. In the event of late cancellation, the actual costs incurred up to the point in time of cancellation will be charged.
4. Any costs incurred through the amendment of the originally stipulated design or the print copy ordered are to be borne by the customer separately.

SETTLEMENT OF CHARGES AND CREDITS

1. Complaints will only be acknowledged within 14 days of the date of issue.
2. Discount adjustments made within the currency year of the price list will only be made upon request on a quarterly basis.
3. In the event of unjustified discounts being asserted upon a contract being concluded, an additional amount will be charged following the expiry of a calendar year, for which arrears interest in the amount of 12% p.a. will accrue on the amount owed.
4. Discount calculations are to be requested in writing by no later than 31 March of the following year.
5. Once the advertisement has appeared, the advertiser will receive a free copy.

PAYMENT

1. Payment deadline: 2% discount for receipt of payment within ten days of the invoice date, 30 days net.
2. In the event of payment arrears or deferral, interest amounting to 12% as well as collection fees will be charged.
3. Prior to executing the order, and also during the term of the order, the publisher is entitled to make the appearance of the advertisement or any further advertisements dependent upon a certain sum of money being paid in advance and upon the settlement of any outstanding amounts invoiced.
4. Bills of exchange cannot be accepted.
5. Invoices are payable in Vienna, Austria (meaning that the place of fulfilment is Vienna). Substantive Austrian law applies.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. The place of jurisdiction for any disputes arising from the contractual relationship between the News publishing group and the customer is Vienna, Austria.
2. Austrian law applies exclusively. The applicability of the UN Convention (CISG) is excluded.
3. Any general terms and conditions of business of the customer are dismissed in their entirety. The latter only become valid if their validity is explicitly declared in writing by the News publishing group.
4. If a provision of these General Terms and Conditions of Business is invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions will not be affected thereby.
